1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 9-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

For claim 9, applicant has claimed that the vehicle monitoring means is user input information. User input information is simply data. Data is not capable of monitoring a vehicle so the examiner is not clear as to what is being claimed here. Correction is required.

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Klein et al. (5726885).

For claims 1-4,8,18, Klein discloses a vehicle renting system. Klein discloses a terminal (HA or the card reader of each car), register means and central computer (D), vehicle monitoring means (col. 6, lines 1-12), parking area (H1), communication means (1), and information device (either part of HA or 1).

For claims 5,14, applicant is reciting a method limitation and this has been considered to the extent that the prior art must be capable of doing what is claimed.

Klein is fully capable of operating as claimed. Intended use limitations in article claims will be given minimal patentable weight.

For claims 6,7,19-21, the examiner feels that they read on a GPS device that is disclosed by Klein. A GPS device provides the ability to monitor the entry and exiting of vehicles from the parking lot. A GPS unit satisfies the function of the means plus function language.

For claims 9-13, applicant has recited data and nothing more. This is considered to be non-functional descriptive material and because the GPS device of Klein uses data, Klein anticipates this claim. The kind of data being used is non-functional descriptive material.

For claims 15,16,17, the card reader of Klein is vehicle mounted and reads information from an identification card as claimed. The kind of data being used is non-functional descriptive material.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Tagami et al. (5812070), Di Napoli et al. (3665397), and Hirshberg (5289369) disclose vehicle rental and monitoring systems.

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Dennis Ruhl whose telephone number is 703-308-2262. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, John Weiss can be reached on 703-308-2702. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 703-872-9306.
